Dear Recovery Brands,

I'd like to express my interest in applying for the Experience Designer role in San Diego, CA. After reviewing the role's description, responsibilities, and requirements, I felt the urgent need to reach out to show my interest for potentially being a part of your humanitarian organization.

For the past year I studied and worked along with my mentor at Bloc's Immersive UI/UX Design program, learning all the foundational aspects and business objectives and applied those skills into my three products, which one of them, Walden, is an e-commerce philanthropic web & mobile application device, that genuinely epitomizes who I am as an earthling. For each product I thoroughly covered all of the design procedures starting from conducting user research, behavioral specifications, concept ideation, user personas, wireframes, prototypes, testing, and validation. A detailed-oriented strategy is also on my website that I built with HTML, CSS, and Javascript. I have extensive knowledge in a variety of design tools including Adobe CS, Sketch, Invision, and I hope to bring my artistic background to the team if needed. I am a hardworker from the heart, and I believe I thrive most when surrounded by a collaborative environment with optimistic designers who value empathy as a priority when solving the customer's painpoints, especially when its an industry dealing with saving lives.

I cant think of any other company where I can merge my humanitarian and philanthropic spirit with my design knowledge, and create user-centric products along with other like-minded, empathic designers who are willing to heal and save people's lives. I appreciate for your time and consideration and I look forward to the opportunity to speak with you further.

Sincereley,
Robert Hiro Kameda
